

Anthropology Now

September 2009 • Volume 1 • Number 2

SPECIAL ATOMIC ISSUE FEATURES

- Atomic Times in the Pacific
Barbara Rose Johnston 1
- "I Saw the Ash Fall on Him": Excerpt from Testimony before the United States Senate
John Anjain, Chief Magistrate of Rongelap Atoll 10
- Life Underground: Building a Bunker Society
Joseph Masco 13
- Nuclear Payouts: Knowledge and Compensation in the Chernobyl Aftermath
Adriana Petryna 30
- A Machinery of Mirrors
Hugh Gusterson 40
- Where in the World Is the Spat-Upon Veteran?
The Vietnam War and the Politics of Memory
August Carbonella 49
- Three Myths Cloaking the Violence of Occupation
Avram Bornstein 59

DEPARTMENTS

Letters to the Editors

- "Can Anthropology Ever Be Innocent?"
Don Kulick and Gerald M. Sider Exchange 73

Uncommon Sense

- What's Greed Got to Do with It?
Neeraj Vedwan 81

Stories from the Field

- When Distance Is Not Geographical: Paris and a Northeastern Banlieue
Jennifer Selby 88

Poems

- Vicissitudes of Idioma 94
At the Airport 95
Ode to My Shoes 95
Renato Rosaldo

Photo Essay

- A Refugee Odyssey: A Story of Globalization and Somali Bantu Refugees
Catherine Besteman 96

Noted

- Memories of Ann Dunham Sutoro
Simone Buechler 109